

The Site

The Site encompasses the North London Collegiate School (NLCS) buildings and the School grounds.

The Site is located in the London Borough of Harrow and is a short walk from Stanmore and Canons Park tube stations. The School's address is Canons Drive, Edgware, Middlesex, HA8 7RJ.

The School has worked closely with Harrow Council and the GLA since 2016 to develop a masterplan for the site that will improve and extend the School's facilities to make them fit for the twenty-first century, whilst being sensitive to heritage assets, neighbouring residents and the climate emergency.
